MHRA Footnotes referencing
This information has been adapted from the MHRA Footnotes referencing guide.

Referencing guides are updated regularly in line with guidance from the institution on which the style is based. In order to make sure you are using the most up to date version of this guide, check the University Library’s referencing page for the latest version.

Contents

Contents ................................................................................................................................. 1
Introduction ........................................................................................................................... 3
Citing in the text, footnotes, and bibliography ................................................................. 3
Ancient or Historical Texts ............................................................................................... 13
App ....................................................................................................................................... 15
Art - in a gallery, museum or online ................................................................................ 15
Bible ..................................................................................................................................... 16
Blog ...................................................................................................................................... 17
Book with a single author ............................................................................................... 18
Book with two to three authors ..................................................................................... 19
Book with four or more authors ..................................................................................... 20
Book - Chapter in an edited book .................................................................................. 21
Book - Chapter/Section in an electronic book ............................................................... 23
Book – Edited ..................................................................................................................... 24
Book – Electronic ............................................................................................................. 25
Code ..................................................................................................................................... 26
Conference Paper ............................................................................................................. 27
Conference Proceedings ................................................................................................. 29
Dataset ............................................................................................................................... 30
Dissertation (Undergraduate or Masters) ....................................................................... 31
Exhibition ........................................................................................................................... 31
Images and Figures .......................................................................................................... 32
Journal Article – Print ...................................................................................................... 35
Journal Article with a DOI (Electronic) ......................................................................... 36
Journal Article without a DOI (Electronic) ................................................................. 37
Introduction

MHRA Footnotes referencing style is designed by the Modern Humanities Research Association. Some elements of the standard offer a choice of approaches and/or for some sources, the standard does not provide official guidance. The examples given in this tutorial are based on the University Library's interpretation of the MHRA Style Guide: Third edition 2013. Reprinted with minor corrections 2015.

Referencing in the MHRA Footnotes style is a three-part process:

- Footnote number: this is a numerical reference in the text written in superscript, referring to a footnote at the bottom of the page. A footnote is used to show the source of material in the text, allowing the reader to locate the original source of the information. A footnote would be used after a quotation, paraphrased material, an idea taken from another author, or another work referred to in your text.

- Footnote: this is given at the bottom of the page in which the footnote number appears, it consists of the bibliographic details of the source of the material. A footnote can also be used to provide a small amount of text for clarification of specific points, although this should be used sparingly with caution. It is only necessary to reference the full bibliographic details of the source the first time a source is referenced. After the first citation, a shortened version of the reference can be used for subsequent references to the same work.

- Bibliography: given at the end of the assignment, this is a complete list of all the material consulted in writing your assignment even if you have not cited them within it, with full bibliographic details. This is organised alphabetically by author/creator surname.

It is important to be consistent and accurate citing references. The same set of rules should be followed every time you reference, including the layout and punctuation.

Back to Contents

Citing in the text, footnotes, and bibliography

Creating a Footnote Number/Footnote

Adding a footnote

Each time you introduce an idea, thought or theory in your work that belongs to another person, a footnote number must be added. The general rules for an in-text citation using MHRA Footnote Style are:

- Footnotes are numbered sequentially throughout the text and must be written in superscript, e.g. ¹

- The footnote number preferably should be placed at the end of a sentence, e.g. the end of a sentence, ²
• The footnote should appear at the bottom of the page of text in which the footnote number appears.

• All footnotes should start with a capital letter and end with a full stop even if they do not make a full sentence.

• The first time you cite a reference in your footnotes, you must provide full bibliographic details for that reference.

• After the first time you cite an item, you may refer to the work using just enough information to locate the reference, e.g.

  4 Shonfield, Walls Have Feelings, p.3.

• The terms ‘loc. cit.’ and ‘op. cit.’ should be avoided as they are too vague to use in this referencing style.

• If two consecutive footnotes refer to the same work, instead of writing the same details again you can use ‘Ibid.’ which means ‘in the same place’. The page numbers of the reference must follow this. This should be used sparingly to avoid any possible confusion with another reference.

• Simple references, such as line numbers to a book already cited in full, can usually be incorporated in the text, normally in parentheses after quotations.

General rules for the footnote reference

• The author of an item may be a corporate author.

• The names of up to three authors should be given in full; for works with more than three authors, only the first name should be given, followed by ‘and others’.

• Wherever possible, the details of the reference should be taken from the title page of the publication and not from the front cover, which may be different.

• You should capitalise each significant word of the title and subtitle even if they are not capitalised in the source material.

• The first word after a colon should be capitalised

• Any detail of publication that is not included in the book, but can be determined, should be included in square brackets, e.g. [London]. For details that are not certain, include a question mark in the square brackets, e.g. [London?]

• If any detail of publication cannot be found then the following abbreviations should be used:

  o No place of publication [n.p.]
  o No publisher [n. pub.]
  o No date [n.d.]
• If the date is an approximate date, circa should be used. It should be abbreviated to c., e.g. c. 1496.

• Two letter abbreviations of US states should only be used to avoid confusion with another place, e.g. Cambridge MA would show that it is Cambridge in Massachusetts rather than Cambridge in the UK. If the name of the US state appears in the name of the publisher then omit the state abbreviation.

• If the item is a reprint, you will need to acknowledge this in the publication details. This can be done in two ways:
  o If the reprint is by the same publisher: (Place of publication: Publisher, year of publication; repr. Year of reprint)
  o If the item is reprinted by a different publisher: Place of publication: Publisher, year of publication; repr. Place of publication for reprint: Publisher of reprint, Year of reprint

• Page numbers should be preceded with p. for example, p. 12 if you are referring to a single page. You should use pp. for a page range or a selection of pages, e.g. pp. 10-14 or pp. 1, 10, 13.
  o When a page range falls within the same hundred, you should write the page range as follows: pp. 101-23, or pp. 101-09.
  o When a page range falls within the thousands and the last three numbers are not within the same hundred, you should write the page range as follows: pp. 1225-1301.
  o When a page range falls within the thousands and the last three numbers are within the same hundred, you should write the page range as follows: pp. 1061-92.

• The titles of works of literature occurring within the titles of an item should be italicised or placed within quotation marks - whichever is deemed most suitable, even if it is not expressed as such on the item.

• If quotation marks are used within the title of an item already enclosed in quotation marks (i.e. for a chapter of a book, journal article etc.), they should be enclosed in double quotation marks, as single quotation marks should have been used to enclose the title itself.

• If a particular page within a chapter or article is to be indicated, a full page span should still be given in the first full citation and a reference to the particular page should be added in rounded brackets, e.g. pp. 31-35 (p. 32).

• A colon should separate the title and subtitle, even if it is different to the grammar on the title page.

• Do not use URL shorteners such as bitly, tinyurl, etc. when quoting the URL in a reference.
A quotation is where you use the exact words of the original author. Try not to over rely on quotations, as this may show a lack of understanding of the subject area being studied.

Short Quotations

Short quotations of up to 40 words in length or two lines of verse should be included in the body of the text enclosed in single quotation marks, e.g.

Barton states that the play As You Like It is ‘the fullest and most stable realization of Shakespearean comic form.’\(^1\) This can be considered as...

General Rules for Short Quotations

If the quotation is at the end of a sentence, the full stop should fall outside the quotation mark. This applies if the quote is integrated within the sentence and is not preceded by any punctuation, e.g.

Barton states that the play As You Like It is ‘the fullest and most stable realization of Shakespearean comic form’.\(^1\) This can be considered as...

If the quotation is preceded by punctuation and forms a full sentence the full stop should be included before the quotation mark. Note the comma before the quote below, this means that the full stop will fall within the quotation mark, e.g.

There is still a labelling issue when it comes to flavourings in food, ‘flavours such as vanillin, which occur naturally in food are called "nature identical", the label does not have to state where it comes from.’\(^2\)

You should use double quotation marks to identify a quotation that falls within a quotation, e.g. 'Original quote "Quote within quote" original quote'.

Long Quotations

Long quotations are classed as a quote that is over 40 words or two lines of verse. This should be presented on a separate paragraph, which is indented from the body of the text, and is not enclosed in quotation marks.

Phillips and Havely argue that:

Chaucer's own judiciousness about when and where and how densely to place words of French and Latin origins - many of which still had a more learned or exotic air than modern readers immediately realize - amid familiar words is unrivalled among English poets. He can create a courtly French or Ovidian Latin manner in English without simply piling up French or Latin words.\(^3\)
This can be taken to mean...

General Rules for Long Quotations

Long quotations should end with a full stop even if the original does not. However, if there is a question mark or an exclamation mark then this should be used instead.

Quoting literature

When quoting from literature such as a play or poem, the original spelling and punctuation should be preserved wherever possible. Quotations and lines of verse should, in a short quote, be separated by a spaced upright stroke, e.g.

> Tennyson wrote: "'The fault was mine, the fault was mine" | Why am I sitting here so stunned and still.'

In a long quotation, which is indented in a separate paragraph and not enclosed in quotation marks, the lines of a verse should be reproduced with exact lineage of the original, e.g.

In his poem Maud, Tennyson wrote the following passage:

>`'The fault was mine' –
Why am I sitting here so stunned and still,
Plucking the harmless wild-flower on the hill? –
It is this guilty hand? –
And there rises ever a passionate cry
From underneath in the darkening land –
What it is, that has been done.
(Maud, II, 1-7)

Prose quotations from plays should follow the name of the speaker, which should be in small capitals. Stage directions should be italicised and separated from speech by a space. When stage direction occurs within speech, they should be enclosed in parentheses, e.g.

Beckett makes good use of stage direction, as exemplified by the following passage:

> She raises her head, gazes front. Long pause. She straightens up, lays her hands flat on the ground, throws her head back and gazes at zenith. Long pause.

> WINNIE (gazing at zenith) Another heavenly day. (Pause. Head back level, eyes front, pause...)

Verse quotations from plays are normally centred with the speakers name aligned on the left of the page, e.g.

BOLINGBROKE
Patience, good lady; wizards know their times.
Deep night, dark night, the silent of the night,
The time of night when Troy was set on fire,
The time when screech-owls cry, and badogs howl,
And spirits walk, and ghosts break up their graves;
That time best fits the work we have in hand.
Madam, sit you, and fear not.\(^6\).

Quoting in other languages

Quotations in languages which are not English should be quoted in the same way as a quote in English, this means using standard quotation marks for MHRA footnote style, e.g. ‘Quote’ rather than «Quote» or „Quote”.

When quoting a piece of text over 40 words it is advisable to use a long dash, known as an em dash (—), to introduce the quote in, for example, French or Russian.

Quoting historical works

Quotations should always be the same as the piece of information you are referring to. However, when referring to early historical works there are some exceptions.

The forms of the letters i and j, u and v, the long s (ſ), the ampersand (&), the Tironian sign (⁊), the tilde, the superior (superscript) letters in contractions, and other abbreviations are normalised into modern use unless there is a specific reason to keep them, e.g. in full bibliographic descriptions.

For more information, see section 2.4 in The MHRA Style Guide.

Omissions

If part of the quotation is omitted then this should be indicated using an ellipsis, e.g. [...] It is not necessary to use an ellipsis at the beginning or end of a quotation as almost all quotes are taken from a larger context, and this fact will be presumed.

Example footnotes

Paraphrasing
Paraphrasing is putting someone else's ideas into your own words. Paraphrasing does not mean just changing an odd word, or changing a sentence if the phrasing of the original is still evident. When you paraphrase you should restate the meaning of the original text in your own words.

When you paraphrase it will show that you understand the original material and are able to restate the information in your own words. A paraphrase means that you avoid using too many direct quotations, which can distract from the coherence of the argument you are presenting. You can paraphrase to avoid using quotes that have a tenuous link to the argument you are presenting.

Booth and others, give the example of acceptable summarising using Gladwell as their example.¹ This is the quote from Gladwell:

Achievement is talent plus preparation. The problem with this view is that the closer psychologists look at the careers of the gifted, the smaller the role innate talent seems to play and the bigger the role of preparation seems to play.²

Below is an unacceptable summary of the above quote because it follows the original too closely

Success seems to depend on a combination of talent and preparation. However, when psychologists closely examine the gifted and their careers, they discover that innate talent plays a much smaller role than preparation.³

Below is an acceptable summary as the meaning of the original has been restated in the author's own words

As Gladwell observes, summarising studies on the highly successful, we tend to overestimate the role of talent and underestimate that of preparation.⁴

Example footnotes
³ Booth and others The Craft of Research pp. 208-09.
⁴ Ibid., pp. 208-09.
Secondary Referencing
This is when you reference one author who is referring to the work of another, and the primary source is not available.

Secondary referencing should be avoided if possible.

If you have only read the later publication, you are accepting someone else's opinion and interpretation of the author's original intention. You cannot have formed your own view or critically appraised whether the secondary author has adequately presented the original material.

You must make it clear to your reader which piece of information you have read whilst giving details of the original, e.g.

In the bibliography, it would be cited as:

Try not to over-rely on quotations, as this may show your lack of understanding of the information. You should summarise the key points you wish to make in your assignment, in your own words.

Creating a bibliography
The bibliography is given at the end of the assignment. This is a complete list of all the material consulted in writing your assignment, even if you have not cited them within it, with full bibliographic details.

It is presented in alphabetical order by surname of the first author listed on the reference. If there is more than one collaborator, the name of the first author is given in reverse in the bibliography, but do not reverse the order for collaborating authors, e.g.

Footnote

Bibliography

If a list contains more than one work by the same author a 2 em dash (——) should be substituted for the name after the first appearance and they should be listed in alphabetical order of title, e.g.

- Any references in your bibliography where the text runs over two lines or more will need to be formatted with a hanging indent. This means that the first line is set against the margin and any subsequent lines are indented. For example:

- You do not put a full stop at the end of the reference in the bibliography.

- Anonymous works are listed under their title, you should ignore any initial definite or indefinite article when placing in alphabetical order.

- If you are including two or more items from an edited volume, they should each have their own entry in the bibliography.

- It is essential to maintain consistency of styling throughout a bibliography.

- The names of up to three authors should be given in full; for works with more than three authors, only the first name should be given, followed by ‘and others’.

- The author of an item may be a corporate author.

- Wherever possible, the details of the reference should be taken from the title page of the publication and not from the front cover, which may be different.

- You should capitalise each significant word of the title and subtitle even if they are not capitalised in the source material.

- The first word after a colon should be capitalised.

- Any detail of publication that is not included in the book, but can be determined, should be included in square brackets, e.g. [London]. For details that are not certain, include a question mark in the square brackets, e.g. [London?].

- If any detail of publication cannot be found then the following abbreviations should be used:
  - No place of publication [n.p.]
  - No publisher [n. pub.]
  - No date [n.d.]

- If the date is an approximate date, circa should be used. It should be abbreviated to c., e.g. c. 1496.

- Two letter abbreviations of US states should only be used to avoid confusion with another place, e.g. Cambridge MA would show that it is Cambridge in Massachusetts rather than Cambridge in the UK. If the name of the US state appears in the name of the publisher then omit the state abbreviation.
• If the item is a reprint, you will need to acknowledge this in the publication details, this can be done in either of two ways:
  o If the reprint is by the same publisher: (Place of publication: Publisher, year of publication; repr. Year of reprint)
  o If the item is reprinted by a different publisher: Place of publication: Publisher, year of publication; repr. Place of publication for reprint: Publisher of reprint, Year of reprint)

• Page numbers should be preceded with p. for example, p. 12 if you are referring to a single page. You should use pp. for a page range or a selection of pages, e.g. pp. 10-14 or pp. 1, 10, 13
  o When a page range falls within the same hundred, you should write the page range as follows: pp. 101-23, or pp. 101-09
  o When a page range falls within the thousands, and the last three numbers are not within the same hundred you should write the page range as follows: pp. 1225-1301
  o When a page range falls within the thousands, and the last three numbers are within the same hundred you should write the page range as follows: pp. 1061-92

• The titles of works of literature occurring within the titles of an item should be italicised or placed within quotation marks - whichever is deemed most suitable, even if it is not expressed as such on the item.

• If quotation marks are used within the title of an item already enclosed in quotation marks (i.e. for a chapter of a book, journal article etc.), they should be enclosed in double quotation marks, as single quotation marks should have been used to enclose the title itself.

• A colon should separate the title and subtitle, even if it is different to the grammar on the title page.

• Do not use URL shorteners such as bitly, tinyurl, etc. when quoting the URL in a reference.

Back to Contents

Citing and referencing foreign language materials

Citing material from non-roman script, e.g. Cyrillic, East Asian languages

If you are citing materials from non-roman script you should transliterate the references to roman script. The main reasoning is that you need to alphabetise your bibliography/reference list, and would be unable to do so if they are in a different alphabet. If you are unsure of the correct transliteration, you may want to consult with an expert of the language or an international standard to check.
For footnotes, references in the reference list/bibliography

- The family name of the author should be written in full roman script. The initials of the author(s) should also be given in roman script.

- The title of the item (article/book/book chapter, etc.) should be given in roman script using the standard conventions for that language.

- The title should be translated into English and placed in square brackets immediately after the romanised title. The words in the square brackets should not use italics.

- The journal title, or title of a book (if it is an edited book), and publisher’s name all need to be given in roman script, but do not need to be translated. If there is an official English translation then you may use it, especially in cases where it provides greater understanding of the subject or publication.

Example in the footnotes

1 M. Terao, Denai kugi WA suterareru [The nail that does not stick up may be thrown away] (Tokyo: Fusosha, 1998).

Example in the bibliography

Terao, M. Denai kugi wa suterareru [The nail that does not stick up may be thrown away] (Tokyo: Fusosha, 1998)

Materials in roman script

If you are citing materials produced in a language other than English, but in roman script, you may need to place a translated title in square brackets after the original title, depending on who the intended audience for your work will be and the language the work is to be written in.

Back to Contents

Ancient or Historical Texts

In print

In the footnotes

Footnote Number  Author Forename Surname, Title of work, trans. by translator Forename Surname, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (if applicable) (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication), page range used.

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename Title of work, trans. by translator Forename Surname, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (if applicable) (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication)

Euripides, Hippolytus, trans. by Ben Shaw (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2007)

Online

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname, Title of work, trans. by translator Forename Surname, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (if applicable) (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication), page range used. Supplier/Platform/file ebook.

18 William Shakespeare, The Most Excellent and Lamentable Tragedie of Romeo and Iuliet: As it Hath Beene sundrie Times Publikely Acted by the Kings Maiesties Seruants at the Globe, Newly corrected, augmented and amended edn (London: Printed for John Smithwicke, and are to bee fold at his Shop in Dunstances church-yard, in Fleetestreete vnder the Dyall, c. 1622). Early English Books Online ebook.

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, Title of work, trans. by translator Forename Surname, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (if applicable) (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication), page range used. Supplier/Platform/file ebook

Shakespeare, William, The Most Excellent and Lamentable Tragedie of Romeo and Iuliet: As it Hath Beene sundrie Times Publikely Acted by the Kings Maiesties Seruants at the Globe, Newly corrected, augmented and amended edn (London: Printed for John Smithwicke, and are to bee fold at his Shop in Dunstances church-yard, in Fleetestreete vnder the Dyall, c.1622). Early English Books Online ebook.

Notes

• If the full name of the translator is not available you may use their initial as listed on the title page of the item.

• Quotations should always be the same as the piece of information you are referring to. However, when referring to early historical works there are some exceptions. The forms of the following letters are normalised into modern use:
  o i and j o u and v
  o The long s (ſ)
  o The ampersand (&)
The Tironian sign (⁊)
- The tilde
- The superior (superscript) letters in contractions
- Other abbreviations

- To reference a specific part of a play in the footnotes - see Plays.
- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

App

In the footnotes

Footnote Number  Author or designer Forename Surname, Name of app (Year), Platform app is available from.

19 campusM, iSheffield (2017), iOS and Android.

In the bibliography

Author or designer Surname, Forename, Name of app (Year), Platform app is available from

campusM, iSheffield (2017), iOS and Android

Notes

- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Art - in a gallery, museum or online

Work of Art in a Gallery/Museum

In the footnotes

Footnote Number  Author Forename Surname, Title of work, the date of work (if known), medium of composition, dimensions (in cm), Holding institution, town of holding institution.

20 Jean-Germain Drouais, Marius at Minturnae, 1786, oil on canvas, 271 × 365 cm, Musée du Louvre, Paris.

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, Title of work, the date of work (if known), medium of composition, dimensions (in cm if available), Holding institution, town of holding institution

Drouais, Jean-Germain, Marius at Minturnae, 1786, oil on canvas, 271 × 365cm, Musée du Louvre, Paris

Work of art online

See Images and Figures

Notes

- The name of the artist, title, date and method of composition should be given as a minimum when referring to a work of art.

- If the date is an approximate date, circa should be used. It should be abbreviated to c., e.g. c. 1496.

- When giving dimensions, give the units in cm. You should also use a multiplication sign (×) rather than a lower case x.

- Do not use URL shorteners such as bitly, tinyurl, etc. when quoting the URL in a reference.

- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Bible

Citing a chapter/verse

In the footnotes

Footnote number Book of the Bible Chapter. Verse.

19 Ruth 2. 22.

In the bibliography

Book of the Bible Chapter. Verse

Ruth 2. 22

Notes

- The books of the Bible, e.g. Ruth, Genesis, etc., are not italicised.

- Use roman numerals for numbers of books, e.g. ii Corinthians.

- Use arabic numerals for chapters and verses, and separate the chapter and verse numbers with a full stop, e.g. 2. 22.
• For referencing a sacred text other than the Bible, use the guidance for Ancient or Historical Texts and include the chapter/verse number in the footnote rather than the page number of the book.

Citing a whole book

In the footnotes

Footnote number Title, (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication).

In the bibliography

Title, (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication)

Notes

• For referencing a sacred text other than the Bible, use the guidance for Ancient or Historical Texts.

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Blog

In the footnotes

Footnote number Author Forename Surname, ‘Title of blog post’, Title of Blog, (Date) <URL> [accessed Day Month Year].

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, ‘Title of Blog Post’, Title of Blog (Date) <URL> [accessed Day Month Year]

Notes

- Do not use URL shorteners such as bitly, tinyurl, etc. when quoting the URL in a reference.
- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Book with a single author

In the footnotes

Footnote Number  Author Forename Surname, Title of book, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication), pages used.

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, Title of book, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication)

Chong, Derrick, Arts Management, 2nd edn (Abingdon: Routledge, 2010)

Notes

- The author’s name should be given as it appears on the title page.
- The title should be given as it appears on the title page of the item.
- A colon should separate the title and subtitle, even if it is different to the grammar on the title page.
- A series statement needs to be included if the item is part of a numbered series. However, it may be omitted if it is an unnumbered series and the title does not provide important information.
- The edition should be included if it is any edition other than the first, e.g. 2nd edn, rev. edn
- If the work is more than one volume, the number of volumes should be given, e.g. 2 vols
- Foreign items that are more than one volume should use the abbreviation vol. (Note the full stop at the end).
• A book which has more than one place of publication, with a different publisher in each place, should have both places and publishers referred to in the reference, e.g. (Basel: Birkhäuser; Munich: Edition Detail).

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Book with two to three authors

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname and Author Forename Surname, Title of book, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication), pages used.

Or

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname, Author Forename Surname and Author Forename Surname, Title of book, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication), pages used.

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, and Author Forename Surname, Title of book, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication)

Or

Author Surname, Forename, Author Forename Surname and Author Forename Surname, Title of book, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication)

Glasson, John, Riki Therivel and Andrew Chadwick, Introduction to Environmental Impact Assessment, 4th edn (Abingdon: Routledge, 2012)

Notes

• The author’s name should be given as it appears on the title page.

• The title should be given as it appears on the title page of the item.
• A colon should separate the title and subtitle, even if it is different to the grammar on the title page.

• You should capitalise each significant word of the title and subtitle. The first word after a colon should be capitalised.

• A series statement needs to be included if the item is part of a numbered series. However, it may be omitted if it is an unnumbered series and the title does not provide important information.

• The edition should be included if it is any edition other than the first, e.g. 2nd edn, rev. edn

• If the work is more than one volume, the number of volumes should be given, e.g. 2 vols

• Foreign items that are more than one volume should use the abbreviation vol. (Note the full stop at the end).

• A book which has more than one place of publication, with a different publisher in each place, should have both places and publishers referred to in the reference, e.g. (Basel: Birkhäuser; Munich: Edition Detail).

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Book with four or more authors

In the footnotes

Footnote Number First author Forename Surname and others, Title of book, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication), pages used.

In the bibliography

First author Surname, Forename, and others, Title of book, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication)

Notes

• The author's name should be given as it appears on the title page.

• The names of up to three authors should be given in full, for works by more than three authors the name of the first author should be given followed by ‘and others’.

• The title should be given as it appears on the title page of the item.

• A colon should separate the title and subtitle, even if it is different to the grammar on the title page.

• You should capitalise each significant word of the title and subtitle. The first word after a colon should be capitalised.

• A series statement needs to be included if the item is part of a numbered series. However, it may be omitted if it is an unnumbered series and the title does not provide important information.

• The edition should be included if it is any edition other than the first, e.g. 2nd edn, rev. edn

• If the work is more than one volume, the number of volumes should be given, e.g. 2 vols

• Foreign items that are more than one volume should use the abbreviation vol. (Note the full stop at the end).

• A book which has more than one place of publication, with a different publisher in each place, should have both places and publishers referred to in the reference, e.g. (Basel: Birkhäuser; Munich: Edition Detail).

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Book - Chapter in an edited book

In the footnotes

Footnote Number  Chapter author Forename Surname, ‘Chapter Title’, in Name of book, ed. by Editor Forename Surname, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year), pages of chapter (pages used).

In the bibliography

Chapter author Surname, Forename, ‘Chapter Title’, in Name of book, ed. by Editor Forename Surname, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year), pages of chapter

Hutchings, Robert L., ‘The United States, German Unification and European Integration’, in Europe and the End of the Cold War: A Reappraisal, ed. by Frédéric Bozo and others (Abingdon: Routledge, 2008), pp. 119-32

Notes

• The author/editor's name should be given as it appears on the title page/contents page.

• The title of the book should be given as it appears on the title page of the item.

• The title of the chapter should be given as it appears on the contents page.

• A colon should separate the title and subtitle, even if it is different to the grammar on the title page.

• You should capitalise each significant word of the title and subtitle. The first word after a colon should be capitalised.

• A series statement needs to be included if the item is part of a numbered series. However, it may be omitted if it is an unnumbered series and the title does not provide important information.

• The edition should be included if it is any edition other than the first, e.g. 2nd edn, rev. edn

• If the work is more than one volume, the number of volumes should be given, e.g. 2 vols

• Foreign items that are more than one volume should use the abbreviation vol. (Note the full stop at the end).

• A book which has more than one place of publication, with a different publisher in each place, should have both places and publishers referred to in the reference, e.g. (Basel: Birkhäuser; Munich: Edition Detail).

• If a particular page within a chapter or article is to be indicated, a full page span should still be given in the first full citation and a reference to the particular page should be added in rounded brackets, e.g. pp. 31-35 (p. 32)

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.
In the footnotes

Chapter author Forename Surname, ‘Chapter Title’, in Name of book, ed. by Editor Forename Surname, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year), pages of chapter (pages used). Supplier/Platform/File ebook.

In the bibliography

Chapter author Surname, Forename, ‘Chapter Title’, in Name of book, ed. by Editor Forename Surname, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year), pages of chapter. Supplier/Platform/File ebook

Notes

- If the ebook is a stable document, i.e. a PDF, you will be able to refer to page numbers you have used in your work. If the item is not a stable document, but the item has numbered sections or paragraphs, you will be able to use these to direct the reader to the information used in your work, e.g. para. 2 of 15 would refer to the second paragraph of 15. Do not infer line numbers if they are not provided as different browsers or devices can change the display of the document.

- If you are referencing a Kindle edition, you would include this information after the page range, e.g. pp. 12-13. Kindle edition.

- The title of the book should be given as it appears on the title page of the item.

- A colon should separate the title and subtitle, even if it is different to the grammar on the title page.
• A series statement needs to be included if the item is part of a numbered series. However, it may be omitted if it is an unnumbered series and the title does not provide important information.

• The edition should be included if it is any edition other than the first, e.g. 2nd edn, rev. edn

• If the work is more than one volume, the number of volumes should be given, e.g. 2 vols

• Foreign items that are more than one volume should use the abbreviation vol. (Note the full stop at the end).

• A book which has more than one place of publication, with a different publisher in each place, should have both places and publishers referred to in the reference, e.g. (Basel: Birkhäuser; Munich: Edition Detail).

• If a particular page within a chapter or article is to be indicated, a full page span should still be given in the first full citation and a reference to the particular page should be added in rounded brackets, e.g. pp. 31-35 (p. 32)

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Book – Edited

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Title of book, ed. by Editor Forename Surname, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication), pages used.

In the bibliography

Editor Surname, Forename, Title of book, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication)

Notes

• The author/editor's name should be given as it appears on the title page/contents page.

• The title of the book should be given as it appears on the title page of the item.
• The title of the chapter should be given as it appears on the contents page
• A colon should separate the title and subtitle, even if it is different to the grammar on the title page.
• A series statement needs to be included if the item is part of a numbered series. However, it may be omitted if it is an unnumbered series and the title does not provide important information.
• The edition should be included if it is any edition other than the first, e.g. 2nd edn, rev. edn
• If the work is more than one volume, the number of volumes should be given, e.g. 2 vols
• Foreign items that are more than one volume should use the abbreviation vol. (Note the full stop at the end).
• A book which has more than one place of publication, with a different publisher in each place, should have both places and publishers referred to in the reference, e.g. (Basel: Birkhäuser; Munich: Edition Detail).
• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Book – Electronic

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname, Title of book, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication), pages used. Supplier/Platform/file ebook.

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, Title of book, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication) Supplier/Platform/file ebook

Notes

• If the ebook is a stable document, i.e. a PDF, you will be able to refer to page numbers you have used in your work. If the item is not a stable document, but the item has numbered sections or paragraphs, you will be able to use these to direct the reader to the information used in your work, e.g. para. 2 of 15 would refer to the second paragraph of 15. Do not infer line numbers if they are not provided as different browsers or devices can change the display of the document.

• If you are referencing a Kindle edition, you would include this information after the page range, e.g. pp. 12-13. Kindle edition.

• The author/editor's name should be given as it appears on the title page/contents page. The author may be a corporate body or organisation.

• The title of the book should be given as it appears on the title page of the item.

• A colon should separate the title and subtitle, even if it is different to the grammar on the title page.

• A series statement needs to be included if the item is part of a numbered series. However, it may be omitted if it is an unnumbered series and the title does not provide important information.

• The edition should be included if it is any edition other than the first, e.g. 2nd edn, rev. edn

• If the work is more than one volume, the number of volumes should be given, e.g. 2 vols

• Foreign items that are more than one volume should use the abbreviation vol. (Note the full stop at the end).

• A book which has more than one place of publication, with a different publisher in each place, should have both places and publishers referred to in the reference, e.g. (Basel: Birkhäuser; Munich: Edition Detail).

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Code

It’s important to acknowledge the source of code just like you would acknowledge the source of any work that is not your own. Referencing correctly will help to distinguish your work from others, give credit to the original author and allow anyone to identify the source.

See Referencing Code for guidance. You will need to adapt the guidance to your referencing style.

Back to Contents
Conference Paper

In print

In the bibliography

Online

In the bibliography

Forbrig, Peter, and Gregor Buchholz, ‘Subject-Orientated Specification of Smart Environments’, in Proceedings of the 9th International Conference on Subject-orientated Business Process Management: S-BPM ONE 2017, Darmstadt, Germany,
Notes

- If you are referencing a Kindle edition, you would include this information after the page range, e.g. pp. 12-13. Kindle edition.
- The title of the book should be given as it appears on the title page of the item.
- A colon should separate the title and subtitle, even if it is different to the grammar on the title page.
- A series statement needs to be included if the item is part of a numbered series. However, it may be omitted if it is an unnumbered series and the title does not provide important information.
- The edition should be included if it is any edition other than the first, e.g. 2nd edn, rev. edn
- If the work is more than one volume, the number of volumes should be given, e.g. 2 vols
- Foreign items that are more than one volume should use the abbreviation vol. (Note the full stop at the end).
- A book which has more than one place of publication and a different publisher in each place should be referred to, e.g. (Basel: Birkhäuser; Munich: Edition Detail)
- If a particular page within a chapter or article is to be indicated, a full page span should still be given in the first full citation and a reference to the particular page should be added in rounded brackets, e.g. pp. 31-35 (p. 32)
- If the online version is a stable document, i.e. a PDF, you will be able to refer to page numbers you have used in your work. If the item is not a stable document, but the item has numbered sections or paragraphs, you will be able to use these to direct the reader to the information used in your work, e.g. para. 2 of 15 would refer to the second paragraph of 15. Do not infer line numbers if they are not provided as different browsers or devices can change the display of the document.
- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents
Conference Proceedings

In print

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Title of book, ed. by Editor Forename Surname, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication), pages used.

In the bibliography

Editor Surname, Forename, ed., Title of book, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication)

Online

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Title of book, ed. by Editor Forename Surname, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication). Supplier/platform/file ebook.

In the bibliography

Notes

• The author/editor's name should be given as it appears on the title page/contents page.
• The title of the book should be given as it appears on the title page of the item.

• A colon should separate the title and subtitle, even if it is different to the grammar on the title page.

• A series statement needs to be included if the item is part of a numbered series. However, it may be omitted if it is an unnumbered series and the title does not provide important information.

• The edition should be included if it is any edition other than the first, e.g. 2nd edn, rev. edn

• If the work is more than one volume, the number of volumes should be given, e.g. 2 vols

• Foreign items that are more than one volume should use the abbreviation vol. (Note the full stop at the end).

• A book which has more than one place of publication and a different publisher in each place should be referred to, e.g. (Basel: Birkhäuser; Munich: Edition Detail)

• The name of the first editor will decide the place in the bibliography/reference list. You will only need to reverse the name of the first editor.

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Dataset

In the footnotes

In the bibliography

Notes

- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Dissertation (Undergraduate or Masters)

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname, ‘Title of thesis’ (unpublished master’s thesis, Name of University, Year), pages used.

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename ‘Title of thesis’ (unpublished master’s thesis, Name of University, Year)

Notes

- The US refer to doctoral dissertation and master's thesis whilst the UK refer to doctoral thesis and master's dissertation. You should refer to the works according to the country, for example if you are using a US doctoral dissertation, you would refer to it as doctoral dissertation in your work.

- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Exhibition

Viewed in person

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Title of Exhibition, date of exhibition, holding institution, place of holding institution.

In the bibliography

Title of Exhibition, date of exhibition, holding institution, place of holding institution

Beatles to Bowie: The 60s Exposed, 15 October 2009 - 24 January 2010, National Portrait Gallery, London

Viewed online

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Title of Exhibition, date of exhibition, holding institution, place of holding institution <URL> [Date accessed].

In the bibliography

Title of Exhibition, date of exhibition, holding institution, place of holding institution <URL> [Date accessed]

Notes

No official guidance for an exhibition.

- Do not use URL shorteners such as bitly, tinyurl, etc. when quoting the URL in a reference.
- Titles of exhibitions should be enclosed in single quotation marks referred to in the text.
- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Images and Figures

This guidance is for citing and referencing images and figures that you are referring to in your work. If you have inserted an image or figure into your work please see the "Guidance for taught course students inserting images and figures into university work."

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Artist/Creator Forename Surname, Details of image/figure following the format for the source where you viewed it.

In the bibliography

From an online collection/social media site, e.g. Flickr, Instagram, etc.

Artist/Creator Surname, Forename, Title of image/figure, description, Name of site, day month year of publication <URL> [Date accessed]

Bridges, Derek, Man Cat, digital photograph, Flickr, 22 December 2008,

From a museum/gallery (either viewed in person or online)

Artist/Creator Surname, Forename, Title of image/figure, Year, description (include dimensions in cm if available), [If viewed in person] Holding institution, Location [If viewed online] <URL> [Date Accessed]

Drouais, Jean-Germain, Marius at Minturnae, 1786, oil on canvas, 271 × 365cm, Musée du Louvre, Paris

Keegan, Steven, Newby the Dog, 1991, raku fired earthenware,
<http://collections.vam.ac.uk/item/O155512/newby-the-dog-sculpture-keegan-steven/> [accessed 23 January 2018]

From a journal

Artist/Creator Surname, Forename, ‘Title of image/figure’, description, ‘Title of journal article’ Author of journal article (if different to Artist/Creator) Forename Surname, Title of Journal, Volume.Issue, Page range of article (Page number of image/figure) [If online] <URL/DOI>

Empire, Race, and the African Question, 1877-1900’, Journal of American Studies, 52.2 (2018), 330-357 (341) https://doi.org/10.1017/S0021875817001931

From a book/ebook

Artist/Creator Surname, Forename, Year, ‘Title of image/figure’, description, in Title of Book by Author of book (if different to Artist/Creator) Forename Surname, (Place of publication: Publisher), Page number [If online] Supplier/Platform ebook

Notes

- When referencing an ebook you do not need to add the URL, but include the Supplier/Platform at the end of the reference, e.g. Proquest Ebook Central, Google Books, etc.

- In some cases you may need to use the screen name of the creator if their real name is not available, which may be the case with image sharing websites.

- If a person or corporation cannot be identified as the artist/creator, omit the artist/creator and start the reference with the title.

- If there is no clear title to the image, a popular title may be used if one exists. If a popular title to the image does not exist then you will need to supply the image with a title, in square brackets, providing the following where possible:

  - The subject matter.
  - The name or place of the object depicted, i.e. the person, the building, the location, etc.

- Include a description of the item after the title, e.g. photograph, diagram, table, etc. If it is a painting or drawing you can either describe it as painting or drawing, or if the medium used is available you can use this as the description, e.g. watercolour, oil on canvas, charcoal on paper, etc.

- When giving the dimensions of an artwork, give the units in cm. You should also use a multiplication sign (×) rather than a lowercase x.

- If you are referencing an image or figure from a source other than those listed above, include the details of the source in the usual format for that item type after the details of the image.

- When referencing an image/figure from a journal article, include the page range of the whole article followed by the specific page that the image/figure is on in round brackets, e.g. 104-121 (108).

- Do not use URL shorteners such as bitly, tinyurl etc. when quoting the URL in a reference.
• You don’t need to include a citation and reference for any images or figures that you have created yourself. Everything in your work is assumed to be your own work unless you state otherwise, i.e. by citing someone else’s work.

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Journal Article – Print

In the footnotes

Footnote Number  Author Forename Surname, ‘Title of article’, Title of Journal, Volume.Issue (Year), page range (pages used).

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, ‘Title of article’, Title of Journal, Volume.Issue (Year), page range

Notes

• Only include the issue number/month/season of the journal if every issue starts with page 1.

• If you do need to refer to an issue of a journal, it would be given as, for example, 3.3. This refers to Volume 3 Part 3 of a journal

• The volume number should be given in Arabic numerals even if the journal which you are citing prefers the use of Roman numerals, e.g. 12 rather than XII

• The page range in a journal article is not preceded with pp.

• Only give the main title of the journal, but you can give a subheading or place of publication if it will distinguish the journal from another of the same name.
• Only include the definite or indefinite article at the start of the journal title when the title of the journal title is made up of two words, otherwise omit, e.g. The Drama Review would be included as Drama Review, whilst The Economist would remain unchanged.

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Journal Article with a DOI (Electronic)

A DOI refers to a Digital Object Identifier. It provides a stable, persistent link to the article you are referring to. In the MHRA style, a DOI should be presented with http://dx.doi.org/ before the alphanumeric string, regardless of whether the article presents the DOI in this way.

In the footnotes

Footnote Number

   <http://dx.doi.org/10.1558/pomh.v9i3.31855> (pp. 226-27).

41 Katherine B. Aaslestad ‘Serious Work for a New Europe: The Congress of Vienna After Two Hundred Years’, Central European History, 48 (2015), 225-37
   <https://dx.doi.org/10.1017/S0008938915000357>

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename ‘Title of Article’ Title of Journal, Volume.Issue (Year), page range <DOI>

Aaslestad, Katherine B., ‘Serious Work for a New Europe: The Congress of Vienna After Two Hundred Years’, Central European History, 48 (2015), 225-237
   <https://dx.doi.org/10.1017/S0008938915000357>

   <http://dx.doi.org/10.1558/pomh.v9i3.31855>

Notes

• Only include the issue number/month/season of the journal if every issue starts with page 1.

• If you do need to refer to an issue of a journal, it would be given as, for example, 3.3. This refers to Volume 3 Part 3 of a journal.
• The volume number should be given in Arabic numerals even if the journal which you are citing prefers the use of Roman numerals, e.g. 12 rather than XII

• The page range in a journal article is not preceded with pp.

• Only give the main title of the journal, but you can give a subheading or place of publication if it will distinguish the journal from another of the same name.

• Only include the definite or indefinite article at the start of the journal title when the title of the journal title is made up of two words, otherwise omit, e.g. The Drama Review would be included as Drama Review, whilst The Economist would remain unchanged.

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Journal Article without a DOI (Electronic)

URL refers to Universal Resource Locator, this is the address that you will see in your web browser. If a journal article does not have a DOI (See Journal Article with a DOI for a description), you should use this guidance. The MHRA Style Guide recommends that you look for the shortest form of a URL without long query strings, which is normally a question mark (?) followed by many numbers and letters.

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname, 'Title of Article' Title of Journal, Volume, Issue (Year), page range <URL> [Date accessed] (pages used).

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, ‘Title of Article’ Title of Journal, Volume.Issue (Year), page range <URL> [Date accessed]

Notes

• Only include the issue number/month/season of the journal if every issue starts with page 1.

• If you do need to refer to an issue of a journal, it would be given as, for example, 3.3. This refers to Volume 3 Part 3 of a journal

• The volume number should be given in Arabic numerals even if the journal which you are citing prefers the use of Roman numerals, e.g. 12 rather than XII
• The page range in a journal article is not preceded with pp.

• Only give the main title of the journal, but you can give a subheading or place of publication if it will distinguish the journal from another of the same name.

• Only include the definite or indefinite article at the start of the journal title when the title of the journal title is made up of two words, otherwise omit, e.g. The Drama Review would be included as Drama Review, whilst The Economist would remain unchanged.

• Do not use URL shorteners such as bitly, tinyurl, etc. when quoting the URL in a reference.

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Journal Article – Preprint (Ahead of publication)

A DOI refers to a Digital Object Identifier. It provides a stable, persistent link to the article you are referring to. In the MHRA style, a DOI should be presented with http://dx.doi.org/ before the alphanumeric string, regardless of whether the article presents the DOI in this way.

In the footnotes

Footnote Number

In the bibliography

Author(s) Surname, Forename ‘Title of Article’ Title of Journal, Volume.Issue (if available, if not use Advance online publication) (Year), page range <DOI> (pages used).

Management, Advance online publication (2018) http://dx.doi.org/10.1108/CCSM-05-2017-0054

Notes

- Only include the issue number/month/season of the journal if every issue starts with page 1.
- If you do need to refer to an issue of a journal, it would be given as, for example, 3.3. This refers to Volume 3 Part 3 of a journal
- The volume number should be given in Arabic numerals even if the journal which you are citing prefers the use of Roman numerals, e.g. 12 rather than XII
- The page range in a journal article is not preceded with pp.
- Only give the main title of the journal, but you can give a subheading or place of publication if it will distinguish the journal from another of the same name.
- Only include the definite or indefinite article at the start of the journal title when the title of the journal title is made up of two words, otherwise omit, e.g. The Drama Review would be included as Drama Review, whilst The Economist would remain unchanged.
- Advance online publications, or preprints, will tend to have a DOI. If it does not, you would include the URL in place of the DOI followed by the date you accessed the paper in square brackets, e.g. [accessed 19 October 2018].
- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Lecture notes, lecture recordings, handouts and other unpublished teaching materials

Citing informal or unpublished materials, such as handouts, lecture recordings and lecture notes is not generally recommended. Instead you should look to cite a primary source (such as a textbook or journal article) which describes or summarises the idea you are referring to. You may wish to ask your lecturer for recommended reading.

Back to Contents

Magazine

MHRA guidance states that magazines, which are defined as regular non-scholarly periodicals, should be referenced in the same way as you would reference a Newspaper Article.

Back to Contents
Music – Album

In the footnotes

Footnote Number  Artist Forename Surname or Band name, Title of Album (Recording Company, Album Reference (if available), Year) [medium accessed, e.g. on CD, on Vinyl].

43 The Prodigy, The Fat of the Land (XL Recordings, XLCD 121, 1997) [on CD].

44 Daryl Hall and John Oates, Big Bam Boom (RCA, AFL1-5309, 1984) [on vinyl].

In the bibliography

Artist Surname, Forename, or Band name, Title of Album (Recording Company, Album Reference (if available), Year) [medium accessed, e.g. on CD, on Vinyl]

Hall, Daryl and John Oates, Big Bam Boom (RCA, AFL1-5309, 1984) [on vinyl]

The Prodigy, The Fat of the Land (XL Recordings, XLCD 121, 1997) [on CD]

Notes

- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Music - Album Track

In the footnotes

Footnote Number  Artist Forename Surname or Band name, ‘Title of song’, Title of Album (Recording Company, Album Reference, Year) [medium accessed, e.g. on CD, on Vinyl].

46 The Beatles, ‘Ticket to Ride’, Help! (EMI Records, CDP 7464392, 1965) [on CD].

48 Dan Mangan, ‘Road Regrets’, Nice, Nice, Very Nice (File Under: Music, FUM06, 2009) [on CD].

In the bibliography

Artist Surname, Forename, or Band name, Title of Album (Recording Company, Album Reference (if available), Year) [medium accessed, e.g. on CD, on Vinyl, on MP3]

Magan, Dan, Nice, Nice, Very Nice (File Under: Music, FUM06, 2009) [on CD]

The Beatles, Help! (EMI Records, CDP 7464392, 1965) [on CD]

If you are referencing more than one track from an album, you will need to include the full details of each track used in the bibliography, e.g.

Artist Surname, Forename or Band name, ‘Title of song’, Title of Album (Recording Company, Album Reference, Year) [medium accessed, e.g. on CD, on Vinyl]

Notes

- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Music – Score

Full Score

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Composer Forename Surname, Title of score, Forename Surname of editor/translator [if needed], Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication), act/scene number/pages used.

In the bibliography

Composer Surname, Forename Title of score, Forename Surname of editor/translator [if needed], Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication), act/scene number/pages used.

Item from a score

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Composer Forename Surname, ‘Title of item’, in Name of score, Forename Surname of editor/translator/compiler, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication).

In the bibliography

Composer Surname, Forename, ‘Title of item’, in Name of score, Forename Surname of editor/translator/compiler, Series Statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication), pages used

Notes

- The name of the composer(s) should be given as it appears on the title page or section.
- The title should be given as it appears on the title page of the item.
- A colon should separate the title and subtitle, even if it is different to the grammar on the title page.
- A series statement needs to be included if the item is part of a numbered series. However, it may be omitted if it is an unnumbered series and the title does not provide important information.
- The edition should be included if it is any edition other than the first, e.g. 2nd edn, rev. edn
- If the work is more than one volume, the number of volumes should be given, e.g. 2 vols
- Foreign items that are more than one volume should use the abbreviation vol. (Note the full stop at the end).
- A book which has more than one place of publication, with a different publisher in each place, should have both places and publishers referred to in the reference, e.g. (Basel: Birkhäuser; Munich: Edition Detail).
- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Newspaper Article

In print

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname, ‘Title of article’, Title of Newspaper, Date of article (Day Month Year), page number of article.

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, ‘Title of article’, Title of Newspaper, Date of article (Day Month Year), Section of newspaper (if applicable), page number of article.

Online

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname, ‘Title of article’, Title of Newspaper, Date of article (Day Month Year) <URL> [Date accessed].

50 Ian Sample, ‘Tim Peake, Britain’s First ESA Astronaut Set for Liftoff from Kazakhstan’, Guardian, 15 December 2015

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename ‘Title of article’, Title of Newspaper, Date of article (Day Month Year) <URL> [Date accessed]

Sample, Ian, ‘Tim Peake, Britain’s First ESA Astronaut Set for Liftoff from Kazakhstan’, Guardian, 15 December 2015

Newspaper Database (e.g. Nexis)

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname, ‘Title of article’, Title of Newspaper, Date of article (Day Month Year) <URL of database homepage> [Date accessed].

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename ‘Title of article’, Title of Newspaper, Date of article (Day Month Year) <URL> [Date accessed]

Notes

- When citing English newspapers, ‘The’ or ‘A’ are normally omitted from the title. The only newspaper this does not apply to is The Times.

- The month should always be cited in English even if you are referencing a foreign language newspaper.

- For online articles, do not infer page, line or paragraph numbers unless they are marked on the article, as these may differ depending on browser or device used.

- Do not use URL shorteners such as bitly, tinyurl, etc. when quoting the URL in a reference.

- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Plays

In print

In the footnotes

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, Title of book, ed. by Editor Forename Surname, series statement/Edition statement/Volume statement (Place of publication: publisher, Year).

Online

In the footnotes

79 William Shakespeare, Macbeth: A Tragedy. Written by William Shakspeare, with the additions set to mufic by Mr. Locke and Dr. Arne. Marked with the Variations in the Manager's Book at the Theatre Royal in Drury Lane. (London: Printed for C. Bathurst, W. and

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, Title of book ed. by Editor Forename Surname, series statement/Edition statement/Volume statement (Place of publication: publisher, Year). Supplier/Platform/file ebook

Eighteenth century collections online (ECCO) ebook

Notes

- The Scene, Act, and line numbers should be separated with full stops (.) rather than commas (,).
- Small capital Roman numerals should be used for the numbers of acts, the numbers of books, and major subdivisions.
- For scenes, cantos, and chapters use Arabic numerals.
- For later references you will be able to use the name of the play along with scene, act and line information.
- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Podcast

In the footnotes

Footnote number Author/Presenter Forename Surname, 'Title of Episode and Episode number (if available)' Title of Podcast, Type of source e.g. audio podcast, Host site name, Date of publication <URL> [Date accessed].

Last reviewed: January 2022
Review date: Summer 2022
In the bibliography

Author/Presenter Forename Surname, 'Title of Episode and Episode number (if available)' Title of Podcast, Type of source e.g. audio podcast, Host site name, Date of publication <URL> [Date accessed]

Notes

• If you refer to more than one episode of a podcast, each will need a separate entry in the bibliography detailing the episode details and title (if necessary) in quotation marks.

• If there is no specific day or month for the date when the podcast was published, just use the year.

• For a podcast without a URL, e.g. accessed from an app, omit the URL from the reference.

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Radio

In the footnotes

Footnote Number ‘Title of Episode (if necessary)’, Name of series, Radio Station of Broadcast, Day Month and Year of Original Broadcast, Time of broadcast (if necessary) <URL> [Date accessed].

In the bibliography

Name of series, Radio Station of Broadcast, Day Month and Year of Original Broadcast, Time of broadcast (if necessary) <URL> [Date accessed].

Desert Island Discs, BBC Radio 4, 12 January 2018, 9:00am <http://www.bbc.co.uk/programmes/b09kx840> [accessed 31 January 2018]
Notes

- If you refer to more than one episode of a series, each will need a separate entry in the bibliography detailing the episode details and title (if necessary) in quotation marks.
- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Reference Works

Reference Work Entry – In print

In the footnotes

Footnote Number  Author of entry Forename, Surname, ‘Title of Entry’, in Name of reference work, ed. by Editor Forename Surname, Series statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of Publication: Publisher, Year of publication), pages used.

In the bibliography

Reference Work Entry – Online

In the footnotes

Footnote Number  Author of entry Forename, Surname, ‘Title of Entry’, in Name of reference work, ed. by Editor Forename Surname. Series statement/Edition Statement/Volume Statement (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication), page range (if available). Supplier/Platform/File ebook.

In the bibliography

Reference Work Full – In print

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname, Title of reference work, ed. by Editor Forename Surname, Series/Edition/Volume statement (Place of Publication: Publisher, Year of publication).

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, Title of reference work, ed. by Editor Forename Surname(s), Series/Edition/Volume statement (Place of Publication: Publisher, Year of publication)

Reference Work Full – Online

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname, Title of reference work, ed. by Editor Forename Surname, Series/Edition/Volume statement (Place of Publication: Publisher, Year of publication). Supplier/Platform/File ebook

In the bibliography/reference list

Author Surname, Forename, Title of reference work, ed. by Editor Forename Surname, Series/Edition/Volume statement (Place of Publication: Publisher, Year of publication) Supplier/Platform/File ebook

Last reviewed: January 2022
Review date: Summer 2022
Notes

- In the bibliography, list the first author by Surname, Forename. List other authors by Forename Surname.

- Some reference items will only have an editor. If this is the case, you would place the editor’s name(s) at the start of the reference before the title when citing in your bibliography.

- If the item is a translated item, you would place the name of the translator after the title and use the abbreviation trans.

- The author’s name should be given as it appears on the title page.

- The title should be given as it appears on the title page of the item.

- A colon should separate the title and subtitle, even if it is different to the grammar on the title page.

- A series statement needs to be included if the item is part of a numbered series. However, it may be omitted if it is an unnumbered series and the title does not provide important information.

- If the work is more than one volume, the number of volumes should be given, e.g. 2 vols

- Foreign items that are more than one volume should use the abbreviation vol. (Note the full stop at the end).

- A book which has more than one place of publication, with a different publisher in each place, should have both places and publishers referred to in the reference, e.g. (Basel: Birkhäuser; Munich: Edition Detail).

- If you are accessing an item online and the material is not paginated, then you would include the location of cited materials in rounded brackets after the date you accessed the materials. If the material had 16 paragraphs and the material you cited was on paragraph 2, you would write (para. 2 of 16).

- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Reports

In print

In the footnotes

Author Forename Surname OR Corporate Author, Title of report, Report number (if available) (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of Publication), pages used.

In the bibliography/reference list

Author Surname, Forename, OR Corporate Author, Title of report, Report number (if available) (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of Publication), pages used.

Online

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Author/editor Forename Surname OR Corporate Author, Title of report, Report number (if available) (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of Publication), pages used (if available) <URL> [Date accessed] (Location of cited materials).

In the bibliography/reference list

Author Surname, Forename OR Corporate Author, Title of report, Report number (if available) (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of Publication), pages used (if available) <URL> [Date accessed] (Location of cited materials)

Notes

- The author's name should be given as it appears on the title page.
- The title should be given as it appears on the title page of the item.
- A colon should separate the title and subtitle, even if it is different to the grammar on the title page.
- A series statement needs to be included if the item is part of a numbered series. However, it may be omitted if it is an unnumbered series and the title does not provide important information.
- If the work is more than one volume, the number of volumes should be given, e.g. 2 vols.
- Foreign items that are more than one volume should use the abbreviation vol. (Note the full stop at the end).
• A report which has more than one place of publication, with a different publisher in each place, should have both places and publishers referred to in the reference, e.g. (Basel: Birkhäuser; Munich: Edition Detail).

• If you are accessing an item online and the material is not paginated, then you would include the location of cited materials in rounded brackets after the date you accessed the materials. If the material had 16 paragraphs and the material you cited was on paragraph 2, you would write (para. 2 of 16).

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Social Media

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname, ‘Title of tweet/Facebook post’, (format, username, date).

52 Uni of Sheffield Library, ‘Got a library question? Check out our FAQs, pop into our sites or chat online! libraryhelp.shef.ac.uk’ (tweet, @UniSheffieldLib, 3 January 2018).

53 Tim Peake, ‘A good day in the office today - spacewalk training with @Explornaut. Thanks to the amazing divers at @esa who keep us safe.’ (tweet, @astro_timpeake, 5 December 2017).

54 The University of Sheffield, ‘Our campus, seen from St. George’s Terrace. #shefunilife (Photo by ES KWON)’ (Facebook post, 6 January 2017).

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, ‘Title of tweet/Facebook post’ (format, username, date)

Peake, Tim, ‘A good day in the office today - spacewalk training with @Explornaut. Thanks to the amazing divers at @esa who keep us safe.’ (tweet, @astro_timpeake, 5 December 2017)

The University of Sheffield, ‘Our campus, seen from St. George’s Terrace. #shefunilife (Photo by ES KWON)’ (Facebook post, 6 January 2017)

Uni of Sheffield Library, ‘Got a library question? Check out our FAQs, pop into our sites or chat online! libraryhelp.shef.ac.uk’ (tweet, @UniSheffieldLib, 3 January 2018)

Notes

No official guidance available for referencing social media in footnotes and the bibliography.

• You should keep the spelling and punctuation used in the social media post.

• Short social media postings should be given in full, normally up to 40 words.
• If a post is a retweet, make sure to find the original post rather than reference the retweet.

• Do not use shortened URLs from services such as bitly, tinyurl, etc. even if quoted in a tweet, replace with the original URL.

• If the name of the creator is not available, you may use the screen name of the creator instead.

• Be careful when citing any personal communication that has taken place online. You will need the written consent of anyone who was involved in the communications that have taken place even if you were the recipient of the message, and you may not name the individuals in your work. This includes non-public postings such as:
  o Direct messages
  o Posts on someone’s Facebook wall
  o Posts to members only groups
  o Online conversations

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Thesis

In print

In the footnotes

Footnote Number  Author Forename Surname, ‘Title of thesis’ (unpublished doctoral thesis, Name of University, Year), pages used.

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename ‘Title of thesis’ (unpublished doctoral thesis, Name of University, Year)

Online

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname, ‘Title of dissertation’ (unpublished doctoral thesis, Name of University, Year) pages used, in Database of Name of Database <URL> [Date accessed].

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename ‘Title of dissertation’ (unpublished doctoral thesis, Name of University, Year) in Database of Name of Database <URL> [Date accessed]

Notes

• The US refer to doctoral dissertation and master's thesis whilst the UK refer to doctoral thesis and master's dissertation. You should refer to the works according to the country, for example if you are using a US doctoral dissertation, you would refer to it as doctoral dissertation in your work.

• Do not use URL shorteners such as bitly, tinyurl, etc. when including a URL in your reference.

• If the electronic version is a stable document, such as a PDF, you will be able to refer to page numbers you have used in your work. If the item is not a stable document, but the item has numbered sections or numbered paragraphs, you will be able to use these to direct the reader to the information used in your work, e.g. para. 2 of 15 would refer to the second paragraph of 15. Do not infer line numbers if they are not provided as the browser may change the display of the document.

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents
Translated Item

In Print

In the Footnotes

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname, Title of item, trans. by Translator Forename Surname (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of Publication), pages used.

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, Title of item, trans. by Translator Forename Surname (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of Publication)

Online

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname, Title of item, trans. by Translator Forename Surname (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of Publication), pages used. Supplier/Platform/file ebook.

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, Title of item, trans. by Translator Forename Surname (Place of publication: Publisher, Year of Publication) Supplier/Platform/file ebook

Notes

- The author/editor/translator's name should be given as it appears on the title page.
- Translated by is abbreviated to trans. by
- Introduction by is abbreviated to intro. by
- The title should be given as it appears on the title page of the item.
- A colon should separate the title and subtitle, even if it is different to the grammar on the title page.
• A series statement needs to be included if the item is part of a numbered series. However, it may be left out if it is an unnumbered series and the title does not provide important information about the item.

• The edition of the item should be included in your footnote/reference if it is any edition other than the first, e.g. 2nd edn, rev. edn

• If the work is more than one volume, the number of volumes should be given in your footnote/reference, e.g. 2 vols

• Items which are not written in English and consist of more than one volume should use the abbreviation vol. (Note the full stop at the end).

• A book which has more than one place of publication, with a different publisher in each place, should have both places and publishers referred to in the reference, e.g. (Basel: Birkhäuser; Munich: Edition Detail).

• If the item is a reprint, you will need to acknowledge this in the publication details, this can be done in two ways:
  o If the reprint is by the same publisher: (Place of publication: Publisher, year of publication; repr. Year of reprint)
  o If the item is printed by a different publisher: Place of publication: Publisher, year of publication; repr. Place of publication for reprint: Publisher of reprint, Year of reprint)

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Video - Database (e.g. Box of Broadcasts)

Episode of a TV Programme

In the footnotes

Footnote Number ‘Title of Episode’, Name of Series, Channel of Broadcast, Day Month Year of broadcast, time of broadcast <Full URL> [Date accessed].

In the bibliography

Title of TV series, Channel of Broadcast, Day Month Year of broadcast, time of broadcast <Full URL> [Date accessed]
Inside No. 9, BBC2, 9 January 2018, 10.00pm

TV Programme

In the footnotes

Footnote Number  Title of programme, Channel of Broadcast, Day Month Year of broadcast, time of broadcast <Full URL> [Date accessed].

56 Newsnight, BBC2, 4 January 2018, 10:30pm
   <https://learningonscreen.ac.uk/ondemand/index.php/prog/105C0FEA> [accessed 10 January 2018].

In the bibliography

Title of TV series, Channel of Broadcast, Day Month Year of broadcast, time of broadcast <Full URL> [Date accessed]

Newsnight, BBC2, 4 January 2018, 10:30pm,
   <https://learningonscreen.ac.uk/ondemand/index.php/prog/105C0FEA> [accessed 10 January 2018]

Notes

• If you are referencing more than one episode from a television series, you will need to include the full details of the episodes in the bibliography, which are referenced in the footnotes.

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Video - Film/Motion Picture

Film/Motion Picture

In the footnotes

Footnote number  Title of film/motion picture, Directed by Forename Surname (Distributor, date).

57 Star Wars: The Last Jedi, dir. by. Rian Johnson (Walt Disney Studios Motion Pictures, 2017).

In the bibliography

Director Surname, Forename, dir., Title of film/motion picture (Distributor, date)

Johnson, Rian, dir., Star Wars: The Last Jedi (Walt Disney Studios Motion Pictures, 2017)
Video - Physical Format (DVD, Blu-Ray)

Film/Motion Picture

In the footnotes

Footnote number Title of film, Director Forename Surname (Distributor, Year) [on DVD or on Blu-Ray].

58 Hamlet, dir. by Kenneth Branagh (Sony Pictures Entertainment, 1996) [on DVD].

59 The Martian, dir. by Ridley Scott (20th Century Fox, 2015) [on Blu-Ray].

In the bibliography

Director Surname, Forename, dir., Title of film (Distributor, Year) [on DVD or on Blu-Ray]

Branagh, Kenneth, dir., Hamlet (Sony Pictures Entertainment, 1996) [on DVD]

Scott, Ridley, dir., The Martian (20th Century Fox, 2015) [on Blu-Ray]

TV programme

In the footnotes

Footnote number ‘Title of Episode’, Name of series (Distribution Company, Year) [on DVD or on Blu-Ray].

60 ‘The Door’, Game of Thrones: The Complete Sixth Series (Warner Home Video/HBO, 2016) [on Blu-Ray].

In the bibliography

Name of Series (Distributor, Year) [on DVD or on Blu-Ray]

Game of Thrones: The Complete Sixth Series (Warner Home Video/HBO, 2016) [on Blu-Ray]

Notes

• If you are referencing more than one episode from a television series, you will need to include the full details of the episodes in the bibliography, which are referenced in the footnotes.

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.
Video - Sharing Website (e.g. YouTube)

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Author Forename Surname, Title of video, Type of source, Title of website, Date of publication, <URL> [Date accessed].

In the bibliography

Author Surname, Forename, Title of video, Type of Source, Title of website, Date of publication, <URL> [Date Accessed]

Notes

• If the name of the creator is not available, you can use the screen name.

• For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Video - Streaming Service (e.g. iPlayer, Netflix)

Note

If you have used a streaming service such as iPlayer to view something recently broadcast on television, use the example given for Video - Database (e.g. Box of Broadcasts).

If you are using the streaming service to watch a box set and it has no date of broadcast (such as Television programmes available on 4OD marketed as Box Sets where all episodes are available without a date of broadcast) follow the examples below.

Film/Motion picture

In the footnotes

Footnote number Title of film, Director Forename Surname (Distributor, Year) <Full URL> [Date accessed].

63 A Hard Day’s Night, dir. by Alun Owen (United Artists Corporation, 1964)
<https://www.bbc.co.uk/iplayer/episode/b0074q9m/a-hard-days-night> [Accessed 11 January 2017].

In the bibliography

Director Surname, Forename, dir., Title of film (Distributor, Year) <Full URL> [Date accessed]

Chazelle, Damien, dir., La La Land (Lionsgate, 2016)

Owen, Alun, dir., A Hard Day’s Night (United Artists Corporation, 1964)
<https://www.bbc.co.uk/iplayer/episode/b0074q9m/a-hard-days-night> [accessed 11 January 2018]

Episode of a TV Programme

In the footnotes

Footnote number Title of Episode’, Name of series (Distribution Company, Year) <Full URL> [Date accessed].

64 ‘Chapter Six: The Spy’, Stranger Things 2 (Netflix, 2017)

65 ‘The Red Door’, The IT Crowd (Channel 4 Television Corporation, 2006)

In the bibliography

Name of Series (Distributor, Year) <Full URL> [Date accessed]

The IT Crowd (Channel 4 Television Corporation, 2006)

TV Programme

In the footnotes

Footnote Number Name of TV programme (Distribution Company, Year) <Full URL> [Date accessed].

66 Anjelica Huston on James Joyce: A Shout in the Street (BBC; Arte; RTE, 2017)
In the bibliography

Name of TV programme (Distribution Company, Year) <Full URL> [Date accessed]

Anjelica Huston on James Joyce: A Shout in the Street (BBC; Arte; RTE, 2017)

Notes

- If you are referencing more than one episode from a television series, you will need to include the full details of the episodes in the bibliography, which are referenced in the footnotes.
- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Video Game

In the footnotes

Footnote Number  Developer or Designer Forename Surname, Title of video game (Year), Platform.

19 Mojang Studios, Minecraft Dungeons (2021), Xbox.

In the bibliography

Developer or Designer Surname, Forename, Title of video game (Year), Platform

Mojang Studios, Minecraft Dungeons (2021), Xbox

Notes

- If the specific name(s) of the designer(s) are not identifiable, use the name of the company that developed/designed the game.
- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents

Web page

In the footnotes

Footnote Number  Author Forename Surname, ‘Title of page’, Name of website, Year <URL> [Date accessed].

<http://www.michaelrosen.co.uk/for-adults-biography/> [accessed 22 January 2018].

Notes
No official guidance available for referencing a web page

- The MHRA Style Guide recommends that you look for the shortest form of a URL without long query strings, which is normally a question mark (?) followed by many numbers and letters.
- Do not use URL shorteners such as bitly, tinyurl, etc. when quoting the URL in a reference.
- Sometimes the author of a web page will be a corporate author, place the name of the corporation in the place of author Forename Surname. The corporation name will be used to determine the place in the bibliography.
- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Notes
No official guidance for referencing a website.

- The MHRA Style Guide recommends that you look for the shortest form of a URL without long query strings, which is normally a question mark (?) followed by many numbers and letters.

- Do not use URL shorteners such as bitly, tinyurl, etc. when quoting the URL in a reference.

- Sometimes the author of a web page will be a corporate author, place the name of the corporation in the place of author Forename Surname. The corporation name will be used to determine the place in the bibliography.

- For more information about footnotes, referencing multiple authors, and creating a bibliography, see Citing in the text, footnotes and bibliography.

Back to Contents
Summary
You have reached the end of this resource.

Why not look at some of our other Research Skills and Critical Thinking resources?

Book onto a workshop or take an online tutorial:
Research Skills and Critical Thinking workshops and online tutorials.

Visit our FAQs: Library FAQs

Get in touch: library@sheffield.ac.uk

Back to Contents

Full URLs

MHRA Footnotes referencing guide:
https://librarydevelopment.group.shef.ac.uk/referencing/mhra-footnotes.html

University Library’s referencing page:
https://www.sheffield.ac.uk/library/study/research-skills/referencing

MHRA Style Guide: http://www.mhra.org.uk/style

Referencing Code:
https://librarydevelopment.group.shef.ac.uk/Assets/pdfs/referencing/referencing-code.pdf

Guidance for taught course students inserting images and figures into university work:
https://xerte.shef.ac.uk/play.php?template_id=836

Research Skills and Critical Thinking workshops and online tutorials:
https://www.sheffield.ac.uk/library/study/research-skills/index

Library FAQs: https://libraryhelp.shef.ac.uk/

Back to Contents

Last reviewed: January 2022
Review due: Summer 2022

Except otherwise noted, this work by The University of Sheffield Library is licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercialShareAlike 4.0 International License. To view a copy of this license, visit http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/4.0/.